FLIES,---FLIES.

EMERY'S

Great American Fly Catcher.

Patented May 1, 1866, by Jas. Emery,

Manufactured and sold by

SEAVEY & CO.,

Nos. 83 and 85, Blackstone Street, Boston.

THIS is the greatest invention of the age for destroying that great pest, the House Fly, which is so annoying to every household and destructive to goods displayed in show windows. Hotel and Saloon Tables should be ornamented with them—thereby doing away with that unclean appearance too often observed.

There has been heretofore objections raised against the use of Fly Paper on account of its unclean appearance, together with the trouble it occasions by the dead flies dropping about into every thing. Now by this truly elegant invention, these great objections are entirely done away with. The flies are all collected within the Catcher, giving a neat and wholesome appearance to the premises where used.

In stores where goods are exhibited and exposed to the damaging influence of the fly, this invention cannot be over estimated.

THE SICK ROOM

Is rendered more comfortable, and the patient requires less attendance. The infant can take his nap in peace.

Mothers, no nursery should be without its Fly Catcher.

Watch Makers, Engravers, Artists, and all other persons engaged in delicate employment, will find them an indispensable article for their rooms—another great consideration is its cheapness and durability—for 50 or 75 cents, according to style, you have a Fly Destroyer that will last an age.

TRY ONE AND YOU WILL BE SATISFIED.

The Catcher's have been recently improved by adding a perforated bottom and lower entrance.—The Catchers are warranted to catch a host of flies, or no sale.

Arrangements will soon be made for their sale in all cities and towns in the country.

Orders sent to SEAVEY & CO., will be answered promptly.

Canvassers will find this the best selling article for the next four months, ever invented.

DIRECTIONS:

Fill one dish with molasses, place over it its perforated cover; in the other dish put a small piece of fly paper moistened with sweetened water.—Place these dishes within the trap. A common tumbler is to be used as a dome over the centre opening at the top. The flies after entering being separated from the bait will eat the poison, and are thereby destroyed.

The officers of the steamer Mollie Hambleton report that as they passed Helena on Tuesday evening, the 56th regiment of U S colored infantry, which were there awaiting transportation to St. Louis and thence to the Plains, had taken possession of the town and were firing indiscriminately upon the whites, and swore they would burn the place and kill every white. One citizen of the name of Goldraith was fatally wounded. The excitement was intense, and the citizens were flying to places of safety.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.

Reports from all quarters indicate a steady abatement of the cholera hereabouts. Eleven new cases and nine deaths were reported in the city yesterday. There were no new admissions to the hospitals or to Blackwell's or Randall's Islands.

In Brooklyn there were 13 cases and two deaths, and a marked decrease on Governor Island.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.

The Herald's Mexican correspondent says that an Austrian man-of-war at Vera Cruz was taking on board a large quantity of provisions. It was said that Maximillian with a large bodyguard, would embark in her for Europe, while on the other hand it is said that Marshal Bazaine will order his detention by force, if necessary.

Gen. Baird has been removed from his command in New Orleans, and is succeeded by Gen. Stoneman.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 10.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 10.

There were 81 deaths in this city yesterday, 49 being from cholera.

The burning of the steamer Bostona was occasioned by the overturning of a lamp.—Her freight was valued at $60,000, nearly all of which was lost. The safe was recovered with the contents, damaged by water. Mrs. Spellman of this city was seriously scalded.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.

The Commercial says—

The stock market is somewhat irregular, but on the whole steady. Erie in active demand. It is rumored that a Broad street director is a large purchaser.

Governments less active but firm. Money extremely easy at 4@5 per cent. on call.

Gold continues at about the rates of yesterday.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.

Reports in relation to cholera in this city and at the institutions continue favorable.—It is now almost certain the epidemic has passed its worst stage, and that during the remainder of the season the death rate will not be materially increased by the disease.

The Southern delegates to the Philadelphia Convention who are congregated protest against Vallandigham's threatened participation in the proceedings to take place on the 14th inst. The Southerners say Vallandigham has his own personal notoriety and aggrandizement in view, and cares nothing for the harmony of the convention.

Among the persons named for President of the Philadelphia Convention are Judge Curtis, Gen'l Dix and Hon. Thomas Ewing.

By direction of the Secretary of War, the Provost Marshal General's Bureau will be abolished immediately and the archives turned over to Assistant Adjutant General Townsend by the 28th inst. This order is in pursuance of a law passed at the last session of Congress.—[Special to Boston Journal.

EXPLORATION OF PALESTINE. The English engineers sent by the British Archæological Society to explore and survey Palestine, are reported to have fixed with accuracy the scene of Sampson's life, the tomb of Joseph, the well where Christ had spoken to the woman of Samaria, and the beautiful summer palace of Solomon. Two debated questions had been definitely settled—the confluence of the Jaddock with the Jordan and the course of the Waddy Surar. A series of detailed maps have been carefully formed from most accurate observations for time and latitude, representing the whole backbone of the country from north to south, including the Lake of Gennesareth and all the watercourses descending to its western shores. Materials have also been collected for making fifty plans, with detailed drawings of churches, synagogues, mosques, temples and tombs existing in various parts of the Holy Land.

The Auburn (N. Y.) Advertiser, generally considered the home organ of Secretary Seward, makes the following announcement:—

"We have good authority for stating that the representation made to our citizens that Gov. Seward especially requests that they will sign the call that is being circulaed for the appointment of delegates to the Philadelphia Convention, is utterly false. Gov. Seward has a policy of his own and a reason for it. He does not ask his friends and neighbors to commit themselves to any measure which they consider wrong, or as having a tendency to disorganize the great Union Republican party of the North."

THE TEXAN CONSTITUTION. A Washington despatch says that after much doubt upon the subject of the Texas constitutional amendments, they are reported to have been carried, but by a smaller vote than was at first supposed. In some of the counties of the State there were no returns whatever.—The friends of the amendments assert that sufficient time was not afforded them to insure an overwhelming success of their favorite ticket.

AN ISSUE WITH THE PRESIDENT. Col. Wm. B. Thomas, Collector of Philadelphia, has resolved to test the power of the President to appoint another man to fill his office (as he has done) when no vacancy has occurred, without "the advice and consent of the Senate." Wm. F. Johnson is the name of the new appointee.

POLITICAL. Mr. Wm. Frost of Ward Nine, whose name the Johnson men "appropriated" to fill up the list of delegates, repudiates the whole concern. He says—"It was placed there without my knowledge or consent. I do not favor the policy of trying to preserve the Union by surrendering the Government into the hands of traitors."—[Boston Journal.

APPOINTMENTS. The President has appointed H. E. Peck Minister Resident and Consul General to Hayti.

Arthur P. Gorman, Esq., recently Postmaster of the United States Senate, was today appointed Collector of the 5th district of Maryland.

London, Aug. 8. The relations between the governments of Austria and Italy are assuming a threatening attitude.

Liverpool, Aug. 8. The ship Danube, from Bristol for the United States, has been burned at sea. Her passengers and crew were saved and brought to this port by the ship Compeer from Mobile.

What General Chamberlain Says.

All must unite in demanding security for the future. We must have guaranties good and sufficient, against any future attempt to destroy this Government whether in the exercise of a pretended right by open war or BY MORE ARTFUL AND INSIDIOUS ASSAULTS against the principles on which this Nation was founded. These are points we cannot yield without danger and dishonor; and WHEN THE SOUTHERN STATES SHALL HAVE COMPLIED WITH THOSE CONDITIONS IN GOOD FAITH, they will be in a condition to ask association and fellowship with the loyal commonwealths of the country which they deserted with such violence and scorn. UNTIL THAT TIME, in my judgment it is wise to hold them in strict probation. * * * * * *

"We cannot go back to gather up the fragments of the Union as it was; we must now recognize the nation as it is, and make the Constitution what it should be."

Address of Senator Wilson at Boston—The Political Prospect.

Senator Wilson addressed a meeting of the "National Association for the Education of Teachers among the Freedmen," at Boston on Monday evening. We make some extracts. After referring to the object of the meeting Mr. Wilson said:

I tell you here to-night and I want you to remember it, that although we have by the bloody hand of war smitten the fetters from the limbs of the bondmen, we have not subdued the heart of the slave masters. We appealed for thirty years to the heart, conscience and reason of the people of America. The noblest utterances that ever fell from human lips fell upon the ears of the American people, the noblest men—the products of our Christian civilization, wrote and spoke and toiled and labored to convert the heart and conscience and brain of this nation and to lead them to undo the heavy burden and let the oppressed go free. But they would not do it; and when this nation was educated up high enough to come to the simple resolve that it would not permit the institution of Slavery with its chains and fetters, and whips and blood-hounds to extend over the vast territories of the United States the slave masters plunged the nation into the fire and blood of revolution. They went into Rebellion to carry Slavery into the depths of the continent, and they came out without the power to hold a slave anywhere in America. [Applause.] You have got to teach the slave-holding communities of the Rebel States. You have got to change the heart, conscience and reason so that they will recognize the black men as brethren—as countrymen who have equal rights before the laws of the country with themselves.—Since the Rebel armies went down I have never ceased on any occasion—and I never mean to—to do all I could to lift up and build up that section of my country. [Applause.] I will go as far as the man that goes furthest, in demanding the amplest guaranties for the security of men and of the country, not as I met it in war, as an enemy but as a part of our common country, and I would build up and elevate all classes and conditions of men there, and improve all portions of that part of our country. I come back to you after an eight months' session at Washington not despairing of my country. I meet men sometimes who tell me that all is lost. Ladies and gentlemen all is not lost [Loud applause.] We have triumphed, just sure as God lives in the heavens. [Renewed applause.] Why, we have done nothing for the last six years but march from victory to victory. How stood Slavery six years ago? Where is Slavery today? It is totally annihilated—ground to powder; and the bondmen of the country stand up today secure in their civil rights by the laws of the United States. [Applause.] But the work is not yet done. There is yet work for this liberty-loving and Christian people, and they will do it. We have been disappointed. And why? Because the man we elected Vice-President of the United States, who became President by an act I need not name, or in consequence of it, has disappointed our expectations, and turned his back upon the men who elected him—upon the principles he then professed, and is today the inspiration of wrong and outrage upon loyal white men and upon loyal black of the South. I say it here to-night, and I say it in profound sorrow, that Andrew Johnson put the Rebel States back into the hands of the Rebels, and he has put the black men of the South and the loyal men of the South under the hoofs of those Rebels. Gentlemen: a year ago last May when the Rebel armies had all surrendered, that conquered, humiliated, subjected people lay prostrate at our feet. That was their condition. Our army of a million of men stood there proud and victorious; our power was everywhere felt and acknowledged; they were humbled and defeated; hope was lost; all was lost; and they were ready to take life or anything we choose to give.

In that hour the President of the United States had it in his power, without any resistance from the North or South, to have asked and demanded a modification of all their constitutions and laws, so as to secure the equal civil rights of all men, and to have given the black man the same rights possessed by the white man. I met no man from the South in May or June of last year who was not ready to do it. The Northern press expected it. The religious organizations that met in May of last year in this city, in New York, all over the country, demanded civil and equal rights for the emancipated bondman. Aye! And the right of suffrage, too. Even the old Democratic organ, of Massachusetts, I mean the Boston Post, thought it would come. The World, the leading Democratic organ of the country, said that suffrage would come to the black man by-and-by. The News, edited by Ben Wood, had an elaborate article in favor of negro suffrage. When he commenced that policy of his, the wisest, truest and best men, men who have studied this question for many years, protested against it; but they were told that it was an experiment,—that if it failed Congress would have the power to right it; they were told that he was in favor of suffrage as much as anybody,—as much as Mr. Chase. He told Mr. Chase and Mr. Sumner that he agreed with them on that subject, and you know what Mr. Chase and Mr. Sumner think on that subject, and the country knows. [Applause.] That was his position, but, gentlemen, when Congress assembled, in December last, we found that the President had a policy—it was my policy. Congress was not consulted, in fact it was denied that Congress had anything to say in the matter; and the traitor editors restored to their presses to fire the Southern heart again, and the men who had sympathized with them during the war, denounced Congress and called on the President to clean Congress out. And when we passed the Freedmen's Bureau bill—[Applause]—although he had read it, as is stated by Mr. Trumbull in his late speech in Chicago—and he had the care of it—it was met with a veto, and that great measure was arrested. Thank God, it was arrested only for a time. [Applause.] We have a bill more comprehensive, better, than he vetoed; but he vetoed that, and then we promptly passed it over his head [great applause] for we have got a majority in Congress. And then we passed the Civil Rights bill—the greatest bill ever passed by a Congress of the United States; that great measure was met by a veto from the colored man's Moses. [Laughter.] But, thank God, we had a two-thirds vote in both Houses of Congress, and we passed that bill. [Applause.] It is upon the statute book, and it will remain there, forever! No party, no combination of men will ever come in power in America that can repeal the great Civil Rights bill of 1866. I say to you, to-night, ladies and gentlemen, that we shall rise amid these misfortunes; we shall elect another Congress favorable to liberty—and when the hour comes we shall eject a President of the United States who will not betray us. [Loud applause.] There is to be a Convention on the 14th of this month in Philadelphia—a conglomeration of pardoned and unpardoned rebels, copperheads, and the flunkies of the Whig party.—I am glad that the Convention is to assemble. Gentlemen, we have seen these things before.

The man we made President, and made it too as a generous gift, for he had not a vote on the green earth to give us, nor anything else; who we took up, and made him Vice President of the United States, now has turned his back upon this great, grand, historic party, (immense applause) and has taken into his counsels traitors, men who sympathized with traitors and camp-followers that follow all parties. And to-day, (would you believe it?) Mr. Simon B. Hanscomb represents Massachusetts. (Laughter.) Ex-Gov. Andrew, Gov. Bullock, Governor Banks, Mr. Sumner, all acknowledged leaders of public opinion in Massachusetts, have nothing to say about the affairs so far as their State is concerned, but Mr. Simon B. Hanscomb and Mr. John Swift are the illustrious individuals who now put up and put down and turn out and put in, that every other State has gone into the hands of the Simon B. Hanscomb's and the John Swift's—(Cries of shame!) Well, you may think this a pretty pass for things to come to, but they have come to it; and do you believe, gentlemen, that these things are to continue? I tell you there is not an Andrew Johnson Republican that can be elected in a free State in this Union. About ninety-nine out of an hundred men who voted for him are against him to-day, and will be against him in the September, October, and November elections.

Therefore I say to you, that while we have abundant cause for profound anxiety, while we have abundant cause for sorrow—aye, abundant cause for shame, too—that we are masters of our position, true to our principles, and are sure as the sun holds on his course that we will triumph and triumph gloriously in the end. (Tremendous applause.) With a President in favor of suffrage, in favor of equal rights of all men in America, with a Congress strong and firm, with a liberty-loving, law-abiding, and Christian people behind them, we will compel these men lately in rebellion to adopt this amendment. And the lovers of liberty there, and that, too, in a very few brief years, will carry on these reforms, suffrage and all the rest. I say then to you to-night, we shall have to give of our substance, of our influence, what we possess, to the holy cause of elevating this people we have emancipated; but while we are doing this, we must be true to the country, true to liberty, and above all it becomes us of Massachusetts to be true to our cherished convictions. We have been among the foremost in the great contest of the past, and I am sure we shall be among the foremost in the struggle of the future that is to establish equal, universal and impartial liberty in America. (Applause.)

"On Sunday evening the police received their revolvers. They were, it is said, new pistols in perfect order. A part of the force and perhaps all, received two revolvers each, for when they came charging along Barrone street they had revolvers in both hands.

"Orders were given to the night watchmen to go to rest on Sunday at twelve o'cl'k and to be on hand on Monday at six o'clock A. M. They were to form small squads and remain in readiness at distant parts of the city.

"At noon the various bells of the city struck one stroke, which was a preconcerted signal to mass and to attack. A part at least of this plan is made to appear very clearly by the following extract from the French part of the Bee of August 1: 'All the squads had been posted in the vicinity of the objective point, where they marched on as fast as needed.' The term 'objective point' is pretty clear. It refers to an offensive action.

"An appeal was also made by the Mayor, through a public proclamation, to the citizens; or what was called 'special constables.' Several hundred Confederates responded to that call, and were only disbanded in the evening when General Kautz had taken charge of the government of the city. Most of those men joined in the fray. They were as determined a set of rebels as ever met together in New Orleans.

"The preparations of the Mayor were completed by ordering the day watchmen to keep in readiness, not at their respective stations but at the First and Second Stations only. The noon bell was a signal for the night watchmen to concentrate. The twelve bells that they were to strike at any time during the fray was the signal for the charge of the reserve police. This charge was desperate and tremendous. They knocked down or shot on their way the black men they met on the street. We will, another time, give a few sketches of the horrid scenes perpetrated on Dryades, Common and Barrone streets.

"Mr. Dostie was shot first in the hall.—He fell. Another policeman came up and shot at him four or five times after he was down. He was then dragged, alternately by the hair and feet, and thrown on a pile of dead bodies. His body, in appearance lifeless, was afterward carried to the police station-house, and thrown away as a corpse.—Some ladies who came there to bring assistance to the sufferers, found however, that he was still alive. They had him removed from among the dead and cared for. He is today in the 'Hotel Dieu,' with full intellectual powers, but in a very critical condition.

"On Barrone street a number of horrible murders were committed. Several black men were shot when taken into custody by the police officers. A black man who ran through the street was killed by a bullet from behind; and so were a number of others. A colored man who escaped through a window, was riddled with bullets and then horribly beaten. One who had taken refuge under a pile of lumber, was shot at through the boards till he was killed. A black man, who had probably escaped from the main building through the adjoining yards, was shot dead by a policeman; after a while a white woman came and threw a stone on the head of the dead man.

"All this time the white boys were shouting and crying 'Hurrah!' Boys, however, were also murdered in cold blood. But they were black boys. Two of them were dragged out of a street car by two police officers and shot. Two colored men, who were in the same car, were also murdered by these policemen. Eye witnesses to these facts will present themselves before the commission of Investigation, if not murdered before.

"We have still numerous facts to recount. The particulars will be made public in time. The atrocities committed on that occasion will never be known in full; but we hope that the Military Commission will be able to unveil a part at least of these Confederate horrors. Humanity must be vindicated, or this community will only be a community of barbarians."

—One of the latest arrivals at Saratoga was a lady with eighty dresses and thirty-six bonnets.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Portland Fire.

From the Daily Eastern Argus, July 14.

INSURANCE.—Mr. Editor:—Much has been said heretofore, in this State, to the prejudice of Foreign Insurance Companies, and at times a vigorous war has been waged against them in our Legislature.—But I think that the prompt and liberal manner in which those companies have met their liabilities in this city during the present week, must have disarmed all such opposition. Allow me to state one case within my own knowledge as an illustration. A gentleman died a few years since, leaving a widow and one child, the heir to what little property was left after paying the debts of the estate. The property consisted of a lot of land, upon which were two houses. The widow, not understanding that the fee was in the child, took out a policy of insurance for $1,600 in her own name. The fire swept the land. She went to the agent sent here to settle losses. He saw at a glance that if entitled to anything, her legal claim could only be to the amount of her interest under her right of dower, not more than $400 probably. He could not have been compelled to pay more. He merely said that his company never took advantage of any legal exemption from their liabilities, where the party assured had acted in good faith, but had lost their right to enforce payment through ignorance or mistake. And he sent away the widow with a draft for sixteen hundred dollars in her pocket. This was the HOME Insurance Company of New York. And this is not the solitary instance of a noble liberality in the dealings of that Company with our citizens.

Vegetable Hair Restorer!
AS A HAIR PREPARATION this stands without a rival—has proved itself by the thousands who have tested its virtues for the past three years,
THE ONLY RELIABLE RESTORER
Of Gray, Faded, or Diseased Hair, to its original color, condition and former beauty.
It is not a Dye, being a Vegetable Compound, and not injurious in its application; but is warranted to restore Gray, Faded, or Diseased Hair to its original color in 20 days.
By its invigorating properties, promotes a luxuriant growth on Bald Heads, in all cases where such a result is possible; prevents the hair from falling off; eradicates dandruff, humors, and all other impurities from the scalp; and as a Restorer and Dressing combined, it has no equal.
The great and increasing sales of this preparation attest the high value in which it is held; and the fact that its reputation has been established solely upon its own merit and worth—the trial of a single bottle will convince the most skeptical of its virtues.

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS,
OR WORM LOZENGES. Much sickness, undoubtedly, with children and adults, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. The "VERMIFUGE COMFITS," although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child—This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children.
SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's "Vermifuge Comfits" is such as to give the best possible effect with safety.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that the act imposing a tax of 10 per cent. upon banks and banking associations for paying out notes of said banks does not apply to private bankers, doing business without a charter. If, however, a private bank receives and pays out notes of State banks as an agent of National Banking Association, State Bank or Banking Association, the Statute of Liability is credited.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 7.

The Court Martial which has been engaged here six weeks, in trying army officers of the Freedmen's Bureau in North Carolina, on charges raised by Generals Stedman and Fullerton, to-day concluded the last case on the list. The evidence in the six trials which have taken place, has been of the highest importance as exhibiting minutely the working of the bureau, all classes of witnesses having been examined.

The forthcoming trials of Fitz, Berdent, and others, civilian agents of Freedmen's Bureau, will more fully exhibit offenses against them by Generals Stedman and Fullerton.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 10.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—Midnight.

A despatch received from Supt. Mackay, dated at Aspey Bay to-night, states that cable across the Gulf of St. Lawrence, from Aspey Bay to Port au Basque, was under-run by him to a depth of 75 fathoms. That portion of it lying in water over 60 fathoms deep was found embedded in mud and was in a splendid state of preservation. It was found to have been broken in two places by the anchors of fishing vessels. It was spliced at a distance of 12 miles from the shore, but night coming on very dark with a very heavy gale, they were obliged to cut the cable under Cape North, where it was safely buoyed in 30 fathoms of water.

Mr. McKay says:

"We shall await a fine day to land the shore end. The cable tests well, and there is not the least defect in it."

New York will soon be in satisfactory telegraph communication with London.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.

Gen. John H. Gleeson, Captain Condon and Major Comerford, have arrived from Ireland. The two former were released by the British Government on the condition of leaving at once for America.

While confined, they had correspondence with Mr West, U S consul at Dublin, who admitted that they were American citizens, but stated that the Lord Lieutenant would deal with them the same as with ordinary subjects.

Major Comerford comes as an envoy to Mr Stephens, and says the numerical strength and hopes of the Fenians in Ireland are better now than when Mr Stephens left; that the people are determined to fight, and need no aid from America; that their confidence in Mr Stephens is unabated, and that they condemn the action of the Fenians in America.

LOCAL AND STATE ITEMS.

—Thursday night it rained—even worse, it poured. Yesterday was pleasant, although appearances of rain were visible through the day. The weather is cool and comfortable, quite as suggestive of fires and overcoats as of ice creams and seasides.— Water has been abundant this season, and there is no appearance of our usual summer drouth.

The mills are all running on full time, and the river is at a pitch that allows the Penobscot River steamers to run between Oldtown and Winn.

CARRIAGES FOR SALE. Mr. B. N. Thoms at his manufactory, on Harlow street, has for sale two new rockaways, and several new and second hand buggies. Persons wishing to purchase carriages will do well to examine the above, as Mr. Thoms thoroughly understands his business, and attends to it.— His work bears inspection.

—"You mustn't smoke in the streets, sir," said a policeman, yesterday, to a man whose nose shows that he and brandy have had no falling out lately.

"I should like to know why not," said the man, "there is no law against it."

"Can't help it," retorted zealous policeman, "It endangers property to have fire so near your nose."

The cigar was thrown away.

HOME INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK. Our attention has been called to a specimen of liberality shown by the Home Company of New York, which entitles them to the respect and confidence of the community, especially, when it is known that they always pursue the same course.— Read it in our special columns. Messrs. B. Plummer & Sons are the Agents for the Home.

NIAGARA INSURANCE CO. This Company not only paid all losses by the Portland fire with great promptness, but contributed $1000 to the suffering citizens, as we learn from the Eastern Argus. John S. Chadwick, Esq., is the Agent in Bangor.

IN POLICE COURT yesterday, John Swatson (Indian) was convicted of the theft of a package of goods from the store of J. F. Bass, on Main street, and fined ten dollars and costs. John not having the funds to pay the same is now being entertained at the public expense.

Mrs. Margaret H Griffin was convicted on the charge of receiving stolen goods, and fined ten dollars and costs. Paid.

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN. The following are specimens of communications received daily by the United States Treasury Department in Washington, enclosing various sums:

"Mr. Secretary—Sir: This fifty dollars belongs to the government for revenue tax.
MRS. JEFF DAVIS."

The second, containing no enclosure, and which was postmarked "Bangor, Me., Aug. 2d," was addressed to "Mr. Spinner, Bank Treasurer," and read as follows:

"Mr. Spinner: Me only have fifteen cents again. CHIPPEWA CHIEF.
Jesus College, Aug. 1st, 1866."

The letter from Bangor will be readily recognized here. It was written by a man who was once an accomplished business man, but who now draws immense checks on imaginary banks, and owns the Bank of England entire. Cargoes of teas from the Indies and sugar from the Islands are daily occurrences with him. He is quiet and inoffensive, and his morning calls are frequently anything but unpleasant.

ILLUSTRATING HIS FAVORITE MOTTO.— A distinguished official in this State, who has the reputation of keeping his eye steadily on the main chance, years ago adopted for his favorite motto—"Always keep snug to a kicking horse." He has lately illustrated his motto by embracing the Johnsonian faith—evidently afraid of Andy's heels.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS IN YORK COUNTY. John M Goodwin, Asa Low and John H Burleigh for Senators; Silas Derby, County Treasurer; N N Read, Commissioner; James M Burbank, Sheriff.

LAUNCHED. In Stockton, from the yard of Colcord & Mudgett July 29th, the brig Hattie May, of 352 tons.

QUANTABACOOK LODGE, F. & A. M., at Searsmont, has just been instituted by R. W. T. R. Simonton, and its officers installed.

POLITICAL. The "Union Johnson" party of this State, in the person of Tom Garnsey of of Bangor, met a room in the Preble House Wednesday night and appointed delegates to the Philadelphia Convention.

Tom was unanimous in all the appointments save one. He was divided upon the question whether to appoint himself or Sewall from the 4th District, but finally came to the conclusion that it would be policy to appoint the latter.

There is a report that Gov. Cony has intimated to Tom the expediency of resigning his situation on His Excellency's staff— [Press.

—Patents have been granted to J Johnson of Saco for improved dredging machine; C H Sawyer of Hollis, assignor to self, I J Little and S C Randlet, of same place, for improvement in cattle hitch; Ruel Smith of Bangor for eraser.

Capt. John W. Newman, of schooner May Queen, of Orland, was knocked overboard on the 29th of June, while at the Grand Banks, and drowned. Capt. Newman was an estimable man, and his loss will be sensibly felt in the town. The mate took charge of the vessel and she is still on the Banks.— [Ellsworth American.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—Andy Johnson has evidently gone mad, and imagines himself a second Messiah. His efforts to resuscitate the defunct Democratic party will undoubtedly convince him that the day of miracles has gone by.

DEVOTION TO PRINCIPLE. There is a man in Massachusetts who was appointed to office under the lamented Lincoln, for his devotion to Free Soil principles. He has since shown that he had just devotion enough to get the office, but not quite enough to induce him to run the risk of losing it. He enters heartily into the Johnsonian movement.

THE TRUE UNION MEN. According to the new faith, by Johnson, the only true Union men in the country are Vallandigham, Seymour, the Woods, Brooks, and a host of the same stripe nearer this city.— Wish he would tell us why they have so industriously labored for the past four years to throw the government into the hands of the rebels. Have they experienced a change of heart?

—Prof. T. H. Safford, of Chicago, has been elected Associate of the Royal Astronomical Society of London, a distinction held by only three other American Professors.

—A new disease has attacked the wheat near Avon, N. Y. The husk turns brown, and decay begins at the end of the berry nearest the stalk.

—The United States Consul at Antwerp writes to the State Department at Washington that there is a gradual increase of cholera in Antwerp.

—Colonel Charles G. Halpine, (Miles O'Reilly,) in the last issue of the Citizen, says "if the Woods and Vallandighams are to be admitted, good bye Philadelphia Convention! We beg, most emphatically, to be counted out."

—Andrew Johnson has the ambition to be a second Andrew Jackson. An exchange suggests that he is a slightly different "Hero of New Orleans" from his model.

—A captain of the Sixth United States Infantry, who proposed the health of Jeff. Davis some time ago at a party, has been court martialed for that act, and is in Charleston, S. C., under arrest. His name is Montgomery Bryant.

—Beaufort, S. C., which was formerly an aristocratic winter resort of the Southerners, has been completely Yankeeized with New Englanders. The Mayor of the city is a New Englander, and every office holder, land owner and store keeper hails from the same section.

—The business men of Houston, Texas, have resumed specie payments. All transactions are based upon specie estimates.

—A man who gave his name as August Weyer, arrested in Baltimore for passing a worthless check, turns out to be Charles De Villiers, a fast and fascinating young man, who, about seven years ago, was well known in the best circles in Chicago. He was a great gymnast, and was employed by Colonel Ellsworth to teach him the Zouave drill.

—The guilty conscience of the Philadelphia Age is terribly afraid that the coming convention of Johnsonians may be mobbed by Union soldiers, and it devotes a two column double leaded leader to the topic.— There is no danger from that source—the other side has the rioters.

—Governor Humphrey of Mississippi reports to General Howard that the insane asylum of that State is so crowded that he is daily compelled to refuse admission to white citizens, and is therefore unable to provide for the imbecile blacks. The reverses of the war, and the subsequent bankruptcy of the people, and present suffering for food and clothing are thought to be the reasons for this increase.

—The Charleston (S. C.) Courier has a letter from a planter who expresses the opinion that the entire rice crop of Waccamaw, Pee Dee, Black and Sampit Rivers, will not exceed 5000 tierces, of which about 4000 tierces will reach the market through the regular channels.

—Two young men have been lost in the Mammoth Cave, and are supposed to have fallen into one of the numerous chasms which open into the lower depths.

—The old "council tree of Senecas," nearly two centuries old, at Mount Morris, N. Y., was blown down a few days ago.— It measured twenty-three feet in circumference. The solemn councils of the Seneca chiefs were held beneath this tree from time immemorial.

—A correspondent writes from Cassville, Ga., July 30, as follows: "There have been two large revivals of religion in this district amongst the Methodist, Rev. C. A. Evans, late Bragadier General C. S. A., is conducting the meeting, one at Kingston, the other ten miles South. About fifty have already been added to the church, and the meetings still progress with increased interest."

The St. Paul, Minnesota, Pioneer gives expression to fears that the Mississippi is drying up. The average of water is steadily decreasing. The ordinary "June rise," which once came as regularly as the mouth itself, has totally ceased.

—The Omaha Republican, of the 31st ult. says the vote on the previous day on the proposition to raise $60,000 to aid the Northwestern Railroad Company in building their road to that city, resulted largely in favor of the proposition. But fourteen votes were cast against it.

—In Charlton Iowa, recently, the friends of a gentleman and lady who had mutually plighted their troth, were invited to see them made one. The clergymen came, and and the people came, the bride was ready and the bridegroom was there; but, he discovering just before the knot was tied that there was a mortgage on the lady's property refused to be united to her.

—Gen. Pope has been making a tour of observation through Colorado and New Mexico, has recommended to the War Department the formation of the "Department of the Plains," with headquarters at Salt Lake. The St. Joseph papers and other journals West think the recommendation a good one.

—The late counterfeit $50 greenback is considered by the Treasury Department as one of the best ever issued. The figures on the faces of the notes are not so distinct as those of the genuine issue, and the imitations of the lathe-work will not bear close scrutiny. The signatures of the Register and Treasurer are nearly perfect, and the seal of the Treasury, printed in red ink, is said to be the best ever seen upon a counterfeit note. The detectives have succeeded in securing nearly $60,000, and also the plates from which the notes were printed.

—The hail storm in Northern Illinois last week was very destructive, and the hailstones in size were beyond precedent. One was picked up in Lanark three and a half inches in circumference and over one inch thick. A peck was gathered up of nearly that size in Lanark. Over four thousand lights of glass were broken out at Blackberry Station. Hardly a whole light of glass was left in town. In Elgin several thousand lights of glass were smashed, the hailstones being seven inches in circumference. In the track of the storm, which was about a mile wide, corn and oats were completely cut down, and garden vegetables destroyed.

CONCRETE FOR BUILDING. An ingenious application of the process of moulding blocks of concrete for building purposes was patented recently in England. The inventor proposes to erect houses by literally casting them of concrete in the place they are intended to occupy. An ordinary concrete foundation is first laid, and upon the foundation horizontal frames, constructed of boards lined with zinc or other metal, are set up on edge, so as to form a kind of trough for receiving the concrete. By the insertion of suitable cores, holes for the insertion of the joists, or for other purposes, may be moulded in the concrete as the work proceeds. The proprietor of the patent is now in Paris, superintending the erection of some houses on this principle, and we believe it is the intention of the French Emperor to build some laborers' cottages of this kind at one of the Imperial farms. The invention will be illustrated at the Paris Exhibition.

NATURAL GAS. The inhabitants of Baku, on the Caspian Sea, have recently made use of the emanations of carburetted hydrogen gas from the waters for lightning purposes. The gas is collected by means of large funnel mothed tubes, which are attached to floating rafts and dip some feet in to the water. Baku was the sacred city of the Guebres, or Fire-worshippers, and the neighborhood abounds with naphtha springs and blowers, which consist of streams of inflammable gas issuing from the ground.— The most extensive of these "blowers" is known by the name of the "perpetual fire," and is situated some miles to the northeast of Baku. It is an object of great veneration, and is said never to have been extinguished.

PETROLEUM FORMED FROM SEAWEED.— Professor Wilbur, of Homilton, C W., has advanced the theory that petroleum has had its source in marine vegetation, just as coal has been derived from rerrestrial plants.

There is a very warm feeling here over the Kentucky election. The President acknowledges his principles have been rejected by the popular vote, and is quite despondent over the prospects for his support from the South. Vallandigham's course is deprecated, and the expectation of his presenting credentials to the Philadelphia Convention has nerved hitherto quiet men to murmur unutterable things. Delegations from the South are arriving on every train, most of them unconquered rebels. Each believes he will be admitted, and the stubborn course marked out for the Indiana delegation convinces men of either party that there will be a row. Conservatives here are exceedingly anxious over their scheme of the 18th instant.

COAL IN MISSOURI. Veins of coal have been traced to the Southern part of Missouri from the mouth of the river Des Moines through twelve counties into the adjoining Indian territory; from Glasgow up the Missouri river to the border of Iowa; and from St. Joseph to Shelby;—showing the existence of a coal area of more than twenty-six thousand square miles in the northern and western parts of the State.

A story is told of an actor named Hind, who was once playing at a western theatre a melodrama, where a brigand, confined in prison, files off his fetters with a tool supplied him by an accomplice; climbs to the top of a wall, gets one leg over, and is then shot by three soldiers, who rush in just when his escape seems certain. Hind brought the business up to the usual climax, when the guns all missed fire. The soldiers were supplied with fresh weapons at the wings, but as the prompter's boy had forgotten to load them, naturally enough no explosion followed. Hind, in a state of disgust at once fell heavily from the wall and paying no attention to the soldiers, rolled forward to the footlights, gasped a little, and exclaimed:— "Good heavens! I have swallowed the file!" gave several vigorous kicks and expired.— The audience, which had begun to grow uneasy, were appeased.

A MINISTER ON FIRE. In one of our Presbyterian churches, the other Sunday morning, a minister was officiating with all due decorum and solemnity. All at once he began to cut up queer antics, and shortly disappeared from public view, to the no small astonishment of his auditors. The pulpit being a close one, boxed up on all sides and the door shut, the people could not tell what was going on. Smoke arising from the pulpit gave assurance that there was fire somewhere, and the stench filling the house, setting every one sneezing and coughing, indicated that there was more brimstone about the pulpit than was necessary to conduct an ordinary service. The excited congregation learned after a while that the minister was on fire. It seems that he carried in his pocket a lot of loose lucifer matches, and they ignited and set him on fire. Assistance came, and the minister was put out. The whole thing was ludicrous in the extreme, and though the service was continued, the solemnity of the audience was not as marked as on some other occasions.

Had the minister ignored brimstone, and used the Universal Safety Matches, the above accident would not have happened.

A GOOD DISINFECTANT.—Since Cholera has made its appearance upon our shores, various disinfecting compounds have been recommended; but none with more feasibility than Pyle's O. K. Soap, which, if frequently used in the bath and in the wash-tub by the prudent partaker of food, will combine to protect the multitude. Pyle first aimed at the purification of the stomach by his Dietetic Saleratus, and now he proposes to purify the body with his O. K. Soap. Will not our grocers aid in so benevolent a work?

THE MUTUAL
Life Insurance Co.,
OF NEW YORK.
Assets over $16,000,000!

TO meet the choice of such present or future members as may prefer to have the amount insured paid in instalments to their widows or heirs, rather than in one sum, this Company is prepared to insert in its policies a clause agreeing that in lieu of the payment of the policy and profits in one sum an equitable amount, to be determined by the Company, may be paid annually or semi-annually for any specified number of years, (say from five to twenty-five years,) if desired.

EXAMPLE.—Suppose a policy of $10,000, with additions amounting to $5000 more, should become payable by reason of the death of the person insured, the Company, in lieu of the payment of $15,000 in one sum, would be able to give (assuming interest as realized in the past) an annuity for ten years of over $2000 per annum, or for twenty years an annuity of over $1300 per annum.

This form of annuity will remove the anxiety which may exist in the minds of some policy-holders lest the future provision they have made for their families should be ineffectual or transitory in its duration, either through unsafe investments, unwise expenditure, or other uncertainties incidental to contingent trusts.

It is not only free from the ordinary dangers of investment, but its punctual and full payment is secured by the LARGE AND SOLID CASH RESOURCES and good faith of this institution, which thus, to a certain extent, becomes the GUARDIAN or TRUSTEE of the survivors. Hence the provision may be considered, humanly speaking, beyond any adverse contingency.

☞ All such deferred payments or annuities will share equitably in the profits or dividends of the Company.

This Company also issues SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES, which provide for survivors during the whole period of life, and DEFERRED ANNUITIES, by which individuals may provide for themselves in advanced age.

A WOMAN'S HEROISM.

From the hour when Anderson and his little band entered Sumter, their position was an extremely perilous and important one. His friends knew this, and were very uneasy. His devoted wife, a daughter of the gallant soldier, Gen. Clinch of Georgia, with her children and nurse, were in New York city. She knew better than all others, the perils to which her husband might be exposed from ferocious foes without, and possible traitors within. With an intensity of anxiety not easily imagined, she resolved in her mind a hundred projects for his relief. All were futile. At length, while passing a sleepless night, she thought of a faithful sergeant who had married their equally faithful cook. If he could be placed by the side of Major Anderson in Sumter, that officer would have a tried and trusty friend, on whom he could rely in any emergency. Where was he? For seven long years they had not seen his face. Seven years before, they heard that he was in New York. She resolved to seek him. At dawn she sent for a City Directory. The sergeant's name was Peter Hart. She made a memorandum of every Hart in the city, and in a carriage, she sought, for a day and a half, for the man she desired to find. Then she obtained a clew. He might be in the Police establishment—there was a man of that name who had been a soldier. She called on the Superintendent of the Police, and was satisfied. She left a request for Peter Hart to call on her.

Mrs. Anderson had resolved to go to Fort Sumter, if he would accompany her. She was an invalid. Her physician and friend, to whom alone she had intrusted the secret of her resolve, protested vehemently against the project. He believed its execution would imperil her life. She had resolved to go, and would listen to no protests or entreaties. Seeing her determination, he gave her every assistance in his power.

Peter Hart came, bringing with him his wife, the faithful Margaret. They were delighted to see their former mistress and friend. Hart stood erect before her, with his heels together, soldier-like, as if to receive her orders.

'I have sent for you, Hart,' said Mrs. Anderson, 'to ask you to do me a favor.'

'Anything Mrs. Anderson wishes, I will do,' was his reply.

'But,' she added, 'it may be more than you imagine.'

'Anything Mrs. Anderson wishes,' he replied again.

'I want you to go with me to Fort Sumter,' she said.

Hart looked toward Margaret for a moment, and then promptly replied, 'I will go, madam.'

'But, Hart,' continued the earnest woman, 'I want you to stay with the Major. You will leave your family and give up a good situation.'

Hart again glanced inquiringly at Margaret, and then quickly replied, 'I will go, madam.'

'But, Margaret,' Mrs. Anderson said turning to his wife, 'what do you say?'

'Indade, ma'am, and it's Margaret's sorry she can't do as much for you as Peter can,' was the warm-hearted woman's reply.

'When will you go, Hart?' asked Mrs. Anderson.

'To-night, ma'am, if you wish,' replied her true and abiding friend.

'Be here to-morrow night at six o'clock,' said Mrs. Anderson, 'and I will be ready.—Good-by, Margaret.'

All things were speedily arranged. The two travellers were to take only a satchel each for the journey. Hart was to play the part of a servant to Mrs. Anderson, and to be ready, at all times, to second her every word and act. What difficulties and trials awaited them no one knew. The brave, patriotic, loving woman did not care. It was enough for her to know that her husband and country were in peril, and she was seeking to save them.

The travellers left New York on Thursday evening, the 3d of January. None but her good physician—not even the nurse of her children—knew their destination. She was completely absorbed with the subject of her errand. They travelled without intermission until their arrival in Charleston late on Saturday night. She neither ate drank, nor slept during the time. From the Cape Fear to Charleston she was the only woman in the railway train, which was filled with rough men hurrying to Charleston, to join an attack on Fort Sumter. They were mostly shaggy haired, brutal and profane, who became drunken and noisy, and filled the cars with tobacco smoke.

His only reply was, 'Wal, I reckon they will have to smoke.'

Her appeal to two rough men in front of her was more successful. With a sweet voice that touched the chords of their better nature, she said,

'Will you please to throw away your cigars? They make me so sick.'

One of them glanced at the speaker, and to his companion, 'Let's do it; she's a lady.' During the remainder of the journey these rude men were very respectful.

In that train of cars Mrs. Anderson was compelled to hear her husband cursed with the most horrid oaths, and threatened with savage violence should he fall into the hands of the exasperated mob. But she endured all heroically.

It was late in the evening when they arrived at Charleston. When the drunken soldiers were carried out, she asked an agent of the station for a carriage.

'Where are you from?' he asked.
'New York,' she said.
'Where are you going?'
'To Charleston.'
'Where else?'
'Don't know; get me a carriage to go to the Mills House.'
'There are none.'
'I know better.'
'I can't get one.'
'Then give me a piece of paper that I may write a note to Gov. Pickens; he will send me one.'

The man yielded at the mention of the Governor's name. He supposed she must be some one of importance; and in a few moments afterwards she and Hart were in a carriage, on their way to the Mills House. The parlor there into which she was ushered was filled with excited people of both sexes who were exasperated because of her husband's movements. His destruction of the old flag staff at Moultrie was considered an insult to the South Carolinians that might not be forgiven. Their language was extremely violent.

Mrs. Anderson met her brother at the Mills House. On the following morning he procured from the Governor a permit for her to go to Fort Sumter. She sought one for Hart. The Governor would not allow a man to be added to the Sumter Garrison, he said; he would be held responsible to the Commonwealth of South Carolina for any mischief that might ensue in consequence. Mrs. Anderson did not conceal the scorn which the suggestion and excuse elicited. The State of South Carolina, now claiming to be a sovereign power among the nations of the earth, endangered by the addition of one man to the garrison of seventy or eighty, while thousands of armed hands were ready and willing to strike them! Pickens was her father's old friend.

'Tell him,' she said, 'that I shall take Hart to the fort with or without a pass.'

Her words of scorn and her demand were repeated to the Governor. He saw the absurdity of his conduct, and gave a pass to Hart, but coupled the permission with a requirement that her messenger should obtain from Major Anderson a pledge that he should not be enrolled as a soldier. The pledge was exacted, given and faithfully kept. Peter Hart served his country there better than if he had been a mere combatant.

At ten o'clock on Sunday morning, the 6th of January, Mrs. Anderson with Hart and a few personal friends then in Charleston, started in a small boat for Sumpter, carrying with her a mail-bag for the garrison, which had lately been often kept back. It was a most charming morning. The air was balmy, and the bosom of the bay was unrippled. Nature invited to delicious enjoyment; but the brave woman, absorbed in the work of her holy mission of love and patriotism, heeded not the invitation. Everywhere were seen strange banners. Among them all was not seen a solitary Union flag. She felt like an exile from her own native land. Presently as the boat shot around a point of land, some one exclaimed, "There's Sumter!" She turned and saw the national ensign floating gently over it. It seemed as it waved languidly in the almost still air, like a signal of distress over a vessel in the midst of breakers. 'The dear old flag!' she exclaimed, and burst into tears. For the first time since she left New York emotion had conquered the will.

Sentinel boats were now passed and proper passwords were given. They approached Sumter, when a watchman on its wall trumpeted the inquiry, 'Who comes there?' A gentleman there replied through a trumpet 'Mrs. Major Anderson.' She was formally ordered to advance. As her friends conveyed her up the rocks to the wharf, her husband came running out of the sally port. He caught her in his arms, and exclaimed in a vehement whisper for her ear only, 'My glorious wife!' and carried her into the fort. 'I have brought you Peter Hart,' she said. 'The children are all well! I return to-night.' Then turning to the accompanying friends, she said, 'tell me when the tide serves; I shall go back with the boat.' She then retired with her husband to his quarters, nearly over the sally port, and took some refreshments; the first since leaving New York.

The tide served in the course of two hours. When Mrs. Anderson was placed in the boat by her husband, she experienced an almost irresistible desire to draw him after her—to take him away from the great peril. With the splashing of the oars, when the boat was shoved off, came a terrible impression as if she had buried her husband, and was returning from his funeral. But she leaned lovingly, by faith, on the strong arm of the All-Father, and receive strength. Invalid and a woman as she was, she had performed a great service to her husband and country. She had given them a faithful and useful friend in Peter Hart—how faithful and useful the subsequent history of Fort Sumter, until it passed into the hands of armed insurgents three months later, only feebly reveals.

Unheeding the entreaties of friends, who tried to persuade her to remain, and offered to bring her family to her; and the assurance of a deputation of Charlestonians, who waited upon her, that she might reside in their city, dwell in Sumter, or wherever she pleased, Mrs. Anderson started for the National Capital that evening, accompanied by Major Anderson's brother. Charleston was no place for her while her husband was under the old flag; and she would not add to his cares by remaining with him in the fort. A bed was placed in the cars, and on that she journeyed comfortably to Washington. She was insensible when she arrived at Willard's Hotel into which she was conveyed by a dear friend from New York, a powerful man whose face was the first that she recognized on the return of her consciousness. After suffering for forty-eight hours from utter exhaustion, she proceeded to New York, and was for a long time threatened with brain fever.

Thus ended the mission of this brave woman. She alone had done, what the government would not or dared not do. She had not sent, but taken, a valuable reinforcement to Fort Sumter. When we look back to the beginning of the great civil war, the eye of just appreciation perceives no heroism more genuine and useful than that displayed by this noble woman; and history and romance will ever delight to celebrate her deed.—[Lossing's Pictorial History of the Civil War.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Augusta, June 6, 1866.

To Municipal Authorities:

A CONSTRUCTION has been placed upon the blank applications for State Pension, to which it is perhaps liable, though by no means intended, (as will appear by the instructions accompanying the blanks) that every party applying shall declare him or herself a pauper. To correct this, in all cases in which persons applying are not receiving aid, either public or private, the third paragraph of the application signed by the proposed beneficiary, which declares the inability in the second line, should be changed by striking out the word "am," "and," and "continue to," so that line will read "obtain a livelihood for myself and those dependent upon me, and shall be compelled to," &c.

The object of this law is to relieve those who may be paupers, and prevent others from becoming so, and will be so administered.

L

SCROFULA,
STRUMA, GLANDULAR SWELLINGS,
ULCERATION, KING'S EVIL,
ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM

This taint (HEREDITARY and ACQUIRED,) filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

RHEUMATISM.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of twenty or thirty years standing have been cured.

I

NERVOUSNESS.

Nervous Debility, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance, Loss of Power, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfills more than its promise.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.

Salivation, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Feeling of Weakness, Depression of Spirits.

F

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

and all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

E

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP CURES ALL SWELLING OF THE GLANDS, Either of the Face, Neck, or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking, and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

S

All scrofulous persons suffering from general Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia and Dropsey of the limbs, abdomen, and in the female, Dropsey of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort.

IT is invaluable to Nervous Sufferers, and a positive cure for Palsy arising from the abuse of Mercury or Lead.

It is a Tonic as well as an Alterative, and a sure protection from attacks that originate in change of climate, season or life.

LIVER COMPLAINTS and their combined symptoms, such as Lumbago, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Bilious Eruptions, &c. When caused by Scrofula taint, this compound is a most effectual remedy.

DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, is often caused by Scrofula, which deranges the stomach, and renders it unhealthy. Indigestion is not always caused by Scrofula, when it is, this Sarsaparilla Compound is a ready cure.

NEURALGIA, HEADACHE and various disorders of the nervous system frequently arise from a low state of the constitutional health, and are much relieved and often cured by this powerful remedy.

ERYSIPELAS, Boils, Tumors, or Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Sores, &c. Moderate doses three times a day will usually effect the cure of the above complaints, but often requires considerable time.

DR. KNIGHTS' Oriental Hair Restorer.

After a long series of experiments, this article, as it is now offered to the public, is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who, from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey; and others, who, in the sere and yellow leaf of life, would retain, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. DR. KNIGHTS' ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restorers, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.

PRICE 75 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

Notice to the Public!

In the year 1846, the writer embarked in the Drug Business in the city of Philadelphia, and while thus engaged, made several experiments in regard to the most desirable mode of preparing Fluid Extracts.—My efforts being successful—the articles being approved and used by the Medical Faculty—I was desirous of placing them before the public, but hesitated for some time before concluding to resort to newspaper advertising; knowing the prejudice that existed in the minds of many against using advertised Medicines or Nostrums, but through the advice of friends and those who had used them this objection was overcome.

After 18 years' exertion, commencing in a small way, the popularity of my articles has extended to all parts of the United States, and widely throughout foreign countries—and this in the face of much opposition. Every means has been resorted to by unprincipled dealers since their merit and success have been known—such as advertising larger bottles at less price, concurring all other preparations, and even copying my advertisements—but I am happy to state that out of the many who have resorted to this, none have been successful.

MY OBJECT

In this notice is to make facts known to the public and respectable dealers, believing, after so many years' exertions, that the Druggists will discountenance such proceedings, and that the reputation of my articles may not be damaged by use of inferior or spurious ones.

Knowing that many may read this article who are unacquainted with me, I append a few remarks from those of my native city, and whose names are known in all parts of the world:

"Being personally acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold, it affords me pleasure in stating I have been most favorably impressed with his energy and integrity, and gratified at his success."

WM. WEIGHTMAN, Firm of Powers & Weightman, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

[Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.]

"When on a visit to the city of New York a few days since, I was induced to call on our old friend and townsman Mr. H. T. Helmbold, Druggist, 594 Broadway, New York. His store is a Model—a perfect Gem—the handsomest of any kind we have ever had the pleasure of viewing, a d so extensive, being 34 feet front, five stories in height, and over 200 feet deep. It indeed affords us much pleasure to know that he has been so successful, and it is ample evidence of the merits of his articles—as in our whole business experience we have not known of the success of any articles without Merit—advertising merely bringing the name before the people."

[Boston Herald]

"We do not like to advertise worthless wares, or articles calculated to deceive our readers; and when we see an advertiser like Mr. Helmbold, whom we have known for years, gradually extend his advertising from year to year until he becomes the largest advertiser in the United States, we are satisfied that the statements in regard to his articles must be correct."

The writer reluctantly inserts the above, and would not do so were he not a stranger to many; and concludes by stating the names of his articles and the diseases for which they have been used by many thousands with complete success.
